Arena's fate rests in hand of LAB

The fate of the natural ice arena proposed for downtown St. Albert is in the hands of the Local Authorities Board.

Council voted 4-2 Monday night to submit plans and specifications and information regarding bids and funds to the LAB for approval.

They went into the mall Tuesday night.

Councillor John de Bruijn, head of a special committee of council handling the project, said the fund was still about $5,000 short of what was required but that the arena committee would make up the deficit.

He recommended that council accept the bid of Norway Construction Ltd. of St. Albert that included:

* $84,951 for the building and footings;
* $1,300 for water and sewer from the street to the building;
* $2,000 for minor washroom facilities;
* $1,254 for a concrete slab for the washrooms;
* $600, for the electrical work for the washrooms.

The Chamber of Commerce submitted a bid of $2,500 for the rink boards and Sturgeon Electric submitted a bid of $7,900 for the lighting. This brings total cost of the building as proposed to $100,645.

The arena committee has $20,298 in the bank raised through public subscription and the town's bylaw passed in 1966 will provide $75,000.

Councillor de Bruijn said the shortage of funds would not mean any delay if the project gets LAB approval as the arena committee was prepared to sign notes to cover the balance.

It is also almost certain that the St. Albert Kinsmen will be donating an additional $2,500 to the project. The Kinsmen, who have already donated $7,500, will vote on the additional funds shortly.

Councillor de Bruijn said he could not give an estimated date for completion because the project had not been approved. He said, however, that it would involve 50 working days from the starting date.

"We would be fortunate if we got ice in the building before the end of February," he said, "when you consider taking in Christmas and the possibility of some cold weather."

Councillor J. J. Bakker, who with Mayor Ray Gibbon has fought all along against the site south of Imperial Lumber on Perron Street, spoke against the project again Monday night. But his words fell on deaf ears.

"For the first time a considerable amount of public spirit has been generated in this community," Councillor de Bruijn said. "A considerable amount of funds have been raised and some of them hinge on a Jan. 31 start. Council would be remiss in not pushing ahead."

Councillors de Bruijn, Rene Kambouroff, Frank Lukay and Bob Russell voted in favor of going to the LAB. Mayor Gibbon and Councillor Bakker voted against.

Following the vote, Mayor Gibbon asked "is there any other comment on the arena?"

"You could wish us God speed," Councillor de Bruijn suggested.

"I'll probably be in there helping," the mayor said. "I may not agree but I'll accept the democratic process."

Joint use living up to its name

Joint use of recreational facilities in St. Albert reached a high point this past summer when local schools began making use of the swimming pool in Grandin Park.

Mrs. Renee Laird, recreation co-ordinator for the town, said in her annual report delivered to the Joint Use Committee last week that 400 students took advantage of swimming instruction, which was offered to the entire Grade 2 population of the town.

Physical education students at the high schools included swimming in their courses this year and instruction for these students continued when school opened in September.

Awards were presented to qualifying students.

Mrs. Laird said the extensive use of the recreational facilities reflected the unqualified success of the Joint Use Agreement, which for the past three years has offered the combined facilities of the town and the two school systems for recreation.

"Recreation covers a wide range of activities, but rarely is a group or organization deprived of the opportunity to pursue its own particular form of recreation because of lack of facilities," Mrs. Laird said.

"This would not be the case if it were not for the existence of the agreement between the town and the two school districts."

She said that even without the increase in population, it would appear that more people are becoming involved in the field of recreation. Almost all clubs and organizations showed an increase in participation during the past year and several new activities were introduced.

Ron Harvey, trustee with the St. Albert Protestant Separate School Board, told the meeting he would like to see the recreational facilities in schools going seven days a week, 100 per cent.

He presented a resolution commending Mrs. Laird, Parks Superintendent John Beedle and the two secretary-treasurers, Chris McDonell of the public school system and D. L. White of the separate, for the job they are doing.

Movers get okay to open teen centre

The St. Albert Movers, a youth organization from the St. Albert Parish, Monday night obtained permission from council to operate the teen centre on a trial basis until June, 1970.

A delegation to council headed by former Mayor Richard Fowler presented a brief outlining the club's proposals.

Mr. Fowler, who will be on the group's managerial committee, was mayor when the idea of a teen centre began to sprout roots some years ago and has been one of its staunchest supporters

Mr. Fowler said he was approached by the Movers a month or two ago about reopening the teen centre and he attended one of their meetings.

"In the enthusiasm of youth, they wanted to run the show themselves," he said. "But I recommended against it. It might only get like before.

"I suggested a managerial committee and the youngsters went along."

Mayor Ray Gibbon, who had worked with the former mayor in pushing ahead the teen centre originally, said he had been working in parallel with another group, an advisory body of 26 adults

"A steering committee advertised in the town's schools," he said, "but St. Albert High was the only one that replied. The Movers then came to me. I think they can make it go."

Councillor John de Bruijn's motion of approval came so quickly and got such fast backing by council that some of the youthful delegation let out squeals of delight.

The coffee house's utilities' bills will be paid out of the recreation department's budget.

The Movers' brief said the aim is to discover and meet some of the needs of the teens of St. Albert.

"We feel that they are in need of a place where they can go and meet. A coffee house would be an ideal solution, and we think we can

RCMP may get power toboggan

The local detachment of the RCMP may have a power toboggan placed at their disposal to police the Sturgeon River and apprehend snowmobiling enthusiasts who violate local bylaws.

Numerous complaints have been received by the town hall and RCMP regarding noise made late at night by snowmobiles roaring up and down the river, but RCMP have found that catching the persons responsible is easier said than done.

Council Monday night decided it might be wise to give the RCMP a helping hand.

After voting that the bylaw be looked at to see what can be done to make it enforceable, council also agreed that a committee should meet the RCMP about retaining on a part-time basis any equipment they deem necessary to catch people causing the problem.

"I'll even lend them mine if they'll maintain it," Councillor John de Bruijn said.

The matter was brought up after council received letters of complaint from M. M. Swaffield, 91 Grandora Cres.; and A. K. Zimmer, 8 Seymore Cres. Mr. Zimmer's letter was accompanied by one signed by three other local residents.

Mayor Ray Gibbon suggested it was not all local residents who were responsible for the problem. Many of the people came from the city.

Protestant school trustees raise pay

Trustees of the St. Albert Separate School District have granted themselves a pay raise.

Effective Jan. 1, pay per meeting for all regular and committee meetings will be $20. It was previously $15.

The pay hike puts the separate board members well ahead of their counterparts in the public system. The pay there is only $10 per meeting.

It also puts them ahead of town councillors, who earn $15 a meeting and who in September voted down a pay raise for themselves.

The trustees also approved a new scale regarding convention expenses. Payment will now be $40 per day in the Greater Edmonton area plus transportation.

A change was also made regarding meal allowances for employees attending conventions. They will be paid $10 per day with the following breakdown, $2 for breakfast, $3 for lunch and $5 for dinner.

The Readers Write

Dear Sir:

I have been involved in many of the controversial issues which have erupted in this town as it has evolved and, as a person with a great interest in this town, I believe I should again stand up and be counted. The issue now is the arena.

I believe that a facility of this nature will be an asset to this community, however, as I see it, the program is being forced through by a number of zealots who are disregarding all logic to arrive at their wishes.

The council has decided to go against the recommendations of both their own town planner and the recreation committee regarding the best site for the arena. Thus they will use up valuable commercial property. They are also intending to move the building 150 feet closer to Perron Street than originally planned to save $3,000. They neglect to indicate that this would also use up three town owned lots - valued at significantly more than $3,000.

Also, and probably the worst aspect is that these people are pushing to have an arena built by the end of February. This means that for one month's hockey (at best) the town's taxpayers will have to pay the interest (8% min.) on the money borrowed ($75,000) for nine months, and lose interest on the remaining $25,000 for the same period of time. This looks like $5,000. to me or about 1/3 of a mill on everyone's taxes.

I believe that each one of us who can still use commonsense should phone town hall and indicate your disfavor with the reckless abandon with which council disregards the advice of knowledgeable people and groups and gratifies their zeal with our money. Why?

J. A. Wiltshire.

Students meet with trustees

The board of the St. Albert Protestant Separate School District and a liaison committee of students from three of the district's schools have met for the first time.

And according to all concerned, it worked out very well.

School Board Chairman Charles Schroder said the board was impressed with the maturity and sense of responsibility the students showed.

The students themselves brought back favorable reports to their principals, indicating that the communications gap that has existed may be on its way to being bridged.

Mr. Schroder said discussions resulted in establishing the function of the committee, which is to convey students' concerns on schools and the education that they are receiving.

He said the students expressed some problems and the board suggested what they could do to relieve them.

Trudy Tomash, Janice Murdoch and Brian O'Toole represented Paul Kane High School at the meeting. Donald Isert and Jan Schinkinger represented Sir George Simpson Junior High School and Gerry Bradley and Jeri Peterson were the Sir Alexander Mackenzie representatives.

Legion social night

Legion members and guests were very pleased to have the "Stage Door" group for their Saturday nights entertainment.

This group, consisting of singers Donald McMann, Wendy Phillipson and Rita Nadeau and dancers Karon Matras and Rose Kaminski, and the wonderful piano accompaniment of Arthur Rowe, provided two half-hour periods of modern song and dance routines to the great delight of the audience.

With the response so good we have asked them to do a return engagement very soon in the new year, so stay tuned in for a more definite date.

Entertainment for Saturday, Dec. 13, will be provided by the senior girls of the St. Albert School of Dancing, show time approximately 10 p.m.

Has anybody seen a black saluting base, taken from its position on Nov. 11??? It belongs to the legion.

Play does well

Mrs. Olive Finland, general manager of The Citadel has today released attendance figures for the second play of the season, "The Rehearsal" by Jean Anouilh, and they indicate a second record-breaking success. During the three-and-a-half week run of the play, paid attendance was 89.1% of capacity.

In addition, groups from thirty-five communities outside of Edmonton, many of them subscribers, attended, some of whom travelled more than 150 miles to patronize Edmonton's Community Theatre.

Chris Keith of 28 Belmont Drive was one of the big winners in the contest to guess the number of ties on the railway track at Westmount Mall. Keith guessed 8,760 and was within 10 of the exact number. He won a model railway for his efforts.

Father Jan concert plays to full house

Father Jan School held its annual concert on Friday, Dec. 5, and everything pretty well went off as usual--a fine performance played before a full house.

They added a bit this time, however, as students topped the evening with a gymnastics display, the highlight of which saw Michael Byl and Tom Colville perform on the springboard while blindfolded.

Principal J. S. Kaminski, who was master of ceremonies, said the concert was well-received and added that extensive and elaborate costuming helped to set the festive atmosphere.

The Grade 6 Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Kennedy, was the first group to perform, singing "Do you Hear What I Hear" and "The Birthday of a King."

Following were: Grade 1 singing Frosty the Snowman under the direction of Mrs. Clair Klak; Grade 6B presenting a play, No Sale, under the direction of Mrs. Dorice Proulx; Grade 3 rhythm band under the direction of Mrs. Kennedy;

Grade 2 presented an Indian life tableau under the guidance of Mrs. Agnes MacMillan; Grade 6A presented a pantomine, Problems with a Model T Ford, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Oliphant; Grade 5A sang in French under the direction of Miss Lucie Beauchemin;

In the second half of the program Grades 5B and 5C Hillbilly and mod bands led off under the direction of Wayne Vargo and Miss Muriel Lalonde.

Grade 6B presented a play, How the West Was Lost, under the direction of Mr. Kaminski. Grade 6, under the direction of Mrs. Valerie Mik, performed a square dance and a Dutch dance. The Grade 5 Glee Club sang Christmas Day in the Morning and The Little Drummer Boy.

The gymnastics display was under the direction of Mark Kowaluk.

Arts and crafts classes conclude

Next week will see the wrap-up of most of the 19-classes for children, teens and adults held by the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild in co-operation with the Department of Parks and Recreation.

One of the most successful fall sessions ever held by the guild and the recreation department, 10 weeks of instruction in ceramics, arts and crafts, dressmaking, copper enamelling, puppetry, creative dance, drama, woodworking, painting and home-making were attended by more than 200 residents of St. Albert and district.

Registration for another 10 week session of instruction in these and additional activities will be taken in January.

Once again registration forms will be sent home with school children early in January and information will be published in the Gazette regarding starting dates, fees and instructors for classes held in the Arts Centre and the Clubhouse.

Registration will be taken by mail with a final registration to fill any remaining openings at an open house to be held in the Arts Centre Sunday, Jan. 18. Classes will get underway the week of Jan. 26 and run the usual 10 weeks.

Some of the new classes offered will be wine-making, graphics, wood-inlay, design and print making and children's needlecraft.

Extra ceramic classes have been scheduled and priority will be given to children and adults who were unable to be placed in classes in the fall due to over-registration.

A third session of some classes will be held in March with emphasis on outdoor activities such as nature-study and landscape painting. An art auction is also scheduled for spring.

For additional information call Mrs. K. Grant, 599-8524.

Christmas cheer packed in hampers

Last year 34 families in St. Albert and district had a happier Christmas because of hampers of food and gifts distributed by the local Christmas Bureau.

This year the bureau is hoping to fill at least the same number of hampers as last year, but they need donations of food, gifts or cash.

The Christmas Bureau is a service of the St. Albert Kinette Club, whose members are responsible for receiving gifts or cash donations, assembling and delivering the hampers. This year's chairman is Mrs. Lynne Calkins, 12 Gladstone Cres., assisted by Mrs. Linda Stewart, 94 Salisbury Ave.

Working with the department of welfare and local churches, the bureau attempts to fill a hamper for each family brought to its attention through these sources.

Mrs. Calkins says they depend upon local businesses for cash donations to purchase turkeys or fill other shortages. Many of the tinned foods and children's gifts come from children and teens through schools, Sunday schools and other youth organizations.

Mrs. Calkins noted there is usually a shortage of gifts for older children and teens and items suitable for this age group would be greatly appreciated.

If you would like to help, donations of food, toys or cash may be made by contacting Mrs. Calkins, at 599-8091 (evenings), or Mrs. Stewart, 599-5122. The deadline for donations is Dec. 20th and hampers will be delivered Dec. 23rd.

Council briefs

D. B. O'Connell officially became secretary-treasurer of the Town of St. Albert Monday night, more than a year after his appointment by council.

Council had failed to pass a bylaw providing for the appointment, a point uncovered by the municipal inspector a short time ago.

Mr. O'Connell, on holidays, was not present as council caught up on the oversight and made things official.

A local resident had complained about no snow removal on Sunday, Nov. 16, but council concurred in the decision of the superintendent of public works that there was not enough snow to warrant removal, especially at double time, the required pay scale on Sundays.

The town has spent $17,210 on snow removal to date this year, $7,200 more than was budgetted.

The court of revision will sit near the end of January and early February.

Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillors Frank Lukay, John de Bruijn, Rene Kambouroff and Bob Russell will sit on it.

The annual census will be taken in January.

Carol festival combined with Christmas party

The St. Albert Community Carol Festival is this year being combined with the United Church Hiwinders Christmas party, to provide a full evening of family entertainment.

No tickets are required to attend the carol festival from 7 to 9 p.m. but tickets should be obtained by Dec. 14 for those wishing to take in the whole evening.

The carol festival, to be held on Friday, Dec. 19, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Hall.

The St. Albert Singers, who, in co-operation with the Hiwinders Club, are sponsoring the event, report a very enthusiastic response from choirs and individuals wishing to participate.

At least 10 choirs and soloists will be taking part, bringing both the familiar and traditional in Christmas Music, as well as some beautiful, lesser-known carols. There will be opportunity for the audience to participate, too, in the community singing of carols.

Following the carol festival, the Hiwinders will be holding a festive Christmas party, further information about which may be obtained from Stuart Rindero, phone 599-6204.

Teen centre

make good use of the existing building facilities.

"The atmosphere should be such that it favors communication among teens. Therefore all activities (i.e. dances, etc.) that would be considered as being an obstacle to the above objective would be excluded from our program."

The Movers said they want to choose their own managerial committees because they want to work with adults they know.

"In September, if the movers are allowed to continue the experiment and a new youth committee is formed, it would also be allowed to choose its managerial committee for the reason stated above," the brief says

On the managerial committee as proposed are four adults, Mrs. Saumer, Mr. Fowler, Mr. Leon Tellier and one more yet to be chosen, and three teens, Pat Gleason, Elke Lohmeier and Elaine McRae.

Dan McRae, Father Colin Levangie, Mrs. Mona Spencer Clayton Cutshaw and Rev. Leonard Musto are consultants.

The brief says "it is felt that to be efficient the managerial committee must not be top heavy. This explains the fact that only four adults and three teens make up the managerial committee as a voting body.

"On the other hand, it is felt that there are some interested adults whom the youth feel they can relate well to and with whom they can work. The movers would like to see them involved in an official capacity. They would therefore like them as official consultants at meetings."

A youth committee has been set up with teens (with voting power) Julian Romanko, Elaine McRae, Donald Kennedy, Connie LeBlanc, Carole Cunningham and Richard LeBlanc.

Mrs. Chester Cunningham and Father Ubald Duchesneau are consultants.

Change of heart gives VON grant

Council had a change of heart Monday night and reversed the stand it took two weeks ago in turning down a request by the Victorian Order of Nurses for a $500 grant.

The matter was brought up again under new business by Councillor Russell, who at the time the grant was denied insisted that council had given tacit approval in 1968.

Councillors Wheatley, de Bruijn and Kambouroff supported Councillor Russell's moving of the necessary by-law through three readings. Mayor Gibbon and Councillor Lukay voted against, but voted in favor of the three readings at one sitting.

At the previous meeting the motion was lost on a 3-3 split Mayor Gibbon and Councillors Lukay and Bakker voting against and Councillors Kambouroff, de Bruijn and Russell in favor. Councillor Wheatley was absent.

Monday night Councillor Bakker left early. Councillor Wheatley arrived around 10 p.m.

Council also heard a request for a grant from the Salvation Army and referred it to the finance committee.

Councillor Kambouroff insisted that if the grant is approved, that the bylaw be read at the same meeting.

"It could come back in six months and be voted out," he said.

Council had voted 4-1 in 1968 to give the VON a grant in 1969.

Beefs and bouquets

Last school term The Gazette had very good coverage of the two St. Albert High Schools' activities in the field of athletics. What has happened? Didn't anyone replace Roy Gouchey?

A beef against the St Albert parks and recreation department's handling of open air rinks.

Children have been skating and playing hockey on outdoor rinks in Edmonton for nearly two weeks. I can't see that it should be any colder there than it has been here. In fact, usually it is the reverse.

I think it's high time someone gave a little thought to these things. It has been wonderful weather for hockey outdoors. Now it will probably get so cold they'll close the rinks.

Forty-five members of the Grade 6 Glee Club at Father Jan School performed in Edmonton on Tuesday night.

They sang in the Rotary Annual Carol Festival at the First Presbyterian Church.

"I'd like you to come right over," a man phoned an undertaker, "to supervise the burial of my poor wife."

"Your wife!" gasped the undertaker. "Didn't I bury her two years ago?"

"You don't understand," said the man. I married again."

"Oh," said the undertaker. "Congratulations!"

Board elects new members

Council to add to library board

Council will take steps to increase the size of the board of the local library.

Robert Green of 14 Gilmore Cres. wrote to council Monday offering his services to fill the vacancy on the five-member board.

Frank Dolphin of 43 Sunset Blvd. had earlier indicated to council that he would be willing to serve and the board before that had recommended the appointment of Jack Williams, of 29 Gladstone Cres.

Council agreed Monday night that after it expands the size of the board, that these three men be appointed.

Council had been holding off on the appointment while it investigated the possibility of joint use of town and school libraries. It is now felt that this is not feasible.

Present members of the board are Mrs. Peter Hapchyn, Mrs. Dave Johnson, Mrs. Leo Lancaster and Charles Tennant.

More improvements asked for ball field

St. Albert Oilers in a letter to council Monday night outlined what would be required to turn the Mission Park ball diamond into a first-class senior ball park.

Norman LaCoursiere, manager of the local club which competed in the Oilfield Baseball League last summer, listed as priorities:

1. Bleachers behind the present backstop which would accommodate approximately 300 people.

2. An electrical outlet on the backstop for the operation of a public address system and also for a pitching machine which the club hopes to acquire this winter.

3. Some new snow fencing to replace the ones which have been broken and burned since last spring.

4. Regulation-sized dugouts for the players of both teams.

Mr. LaCoursiere in his letter said the dugouts would be most desirable as they would bring St. Albert in line with the facilities available to other league teams.

But he added that if they were beyond next year's budget the Oilers would be well-accommodated if another bench were installed on each side of the infield, with a fence around the back to keep youngsters from the playing field.

Council referred the matter to finance committee and directed that Parks Superintendent John Beedle meet with Mr. LaCoursiere on the matter. Both will appear before the committee.

Next auxiliary meeting will be Monday, Jan. 12, at the Youville Home.

Nursing course given

The first Boy Scout in St. Albert to take the St. John's Ambulance Preliminary Course in Home Nursing has proven that it isn't necessarily a feminine touch that's important when taking care of a bed-ridden patient.

Scout John Lancaster passed the course with one of the highest marks and the St. Albert Chapter of the AARN, which has sponsored and taught the course for the past three years, is hoping this will encourage more scouts to take part in future courses.

Also capable home nurses after taking classes and passing the exams are Girl Guides Kathy Bedell, Lisa Kamper, Corinne Iseke, Trudy Nymeyer, Christine Telfer, Maureen Anderson, Dominic Christian, Cindy Smith, Kathleen Pederson, Kelli Horner, Deborah Tomash, Cindy Joubert and Leslie Wellman.

Grandin bowlers third

A fast finish sent a team from Grandin Lanes into third place in a six-team bantam bowling tournament run off over the past four weeks.

The first Grandin team put together games of 884, 908 and 1,031 for a total of 2,823 on the last day to pull ahead of another St. Albert squad and two teams from Todd Lanes.

Only Bonnie Doon's 3,048 topped the St. Albert team's total on the last day.

Bonnie Doon captured the top two places with 39 1/2 and 33 points. Grandin No. 1 had 19 1/2 points, followed by the two Todd Lanes teams with 18 and 17 points respectively, and the other Grandin team with eight.

Terry Leddy of Grandin No. 1 notched the high single in the tournament with 277 and also the high triple with 571.

Don Wilson avenges fight loss

Don Wilson of St. Albert Saturday night avenged an earlier loss that had cost him a shot at a member of a touring Russian boxing team in November.

Wilson, 16, pounded out a unanimous decision over Paul Collette of Montreal in a 119-pound division scrap on a card at Leduc.

In command all the way, the scoring went 60-56, 60-57 and 59-56 in his favor.

Collette had taken a decision from Wilson in Montreal in October in a fight which was to decide an opponent for a member of the Russian team. Collette lost to the Russian on a split decision.

Comets bounced 6-2 in all-star contest

St. Albert Comets found the rest of the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League just a little too much in Westlock Arena on Sunday afternoon.

Comets, champions of the league last season, bowed 6-2 to the all-stars in a game held annually to help defray costs of referees.

It appeared to be just a case of Comets running out of steam. They took a 1-0 first-period lead but the all-stars pumped in three without a reply in the second. They scored another three in the third before Comets rallied for their second goal.

Comets appeared sadly out of condition and as the game wore on, the all-stars began to attack in waves. Goalie Rene Brodeur at one time found two of them sweeping in on him alone. They missed that time as the puck slid by the goal, and Comets were fortunate throughout the day that the all-stars' sticks had little accuracy to them.

Ray Busche played the first 30 minutes in goal for Comets and the 1-0 lead was intact when he departed. All-stars were just beginning to take the attach, however, and Brodeur stepped in to take the full brunt of it.

Roland Carriere of Legal and Ken McKernan split the goaltending chores for all-stars. Each allowed one goal.

Darcy Baert of Vimy paced the all-stars with two goals. Wayne Rivers, Gary Hutnan and Rick McGlone of Westlock and Roger McKernan of Spruce Grove scored the others.

Joe Cassidy and Dave Joyal scored for St. Albert.

Quite a few St. Albert fans travelled to Westlock for the game. They were also there from Legal, Vimy, Morinville, Barrhead, Spruce Grove, the other centres in the league.

open season with trip to Devon

St. Albert Texaco Bruins will travel to Devon Sunday afternoon to mark St. Albert's return to midget hockey.

The Bruins, coached by Alex Potter, are in a league with St. Albert Wildcats and teams from Devon, Stony Plain, Spruce Grove, Wabamun and Tomahawk.

The Wildcats, coached by Harry Bellerose, will not swing into action until Friday, Dec. 19.

The local house leagues in shavers, mites, peewees and bantams will get under way on Monday.

Erling Winquist, chairman of the St. Albert Kinsmen minor hockey program, said Monday the first week will be devoted to practices with games starting the following week.

He has scheduled games for Dec. 22 and 23, breaking for Christmas, then picking up again Dec. 27. Action will shut down for Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 and recommence on Jan. 2.

Schedules will be going out to team coaches this week. They received their equipment and team rosters at the Clubhouse on Sunday night.

Rinks scheduled to open Monday

St. Albert's open air skating rinks should be open for business next Monday.

Parks Superintendent John Beedle has crews working 18 hours a day at present flooding the hockey rinks and patio skating areas.

He said it will take about five days to put down the ice and then lines will have to be painted on the hockey rinks.

He said the rinks would be available for skating this weekend, but the shacks would not be open.

It is hoped that the figure skating, learn-to-skate and power skating programs will start on Saturday, Dec. 20. Letters will shortly be sent out to all those who have registered for lessons. A further announcement will be made in this column next week and further information can be obtained by phoning the department of recreation at 599-6601.

Sports facilities used to capacity

Summer sports facilities in St. Albert are being taxed to the limit, according to Parks Superintendent John Beedle.

In his annual report to the Joint Use Committee, Mr. Beedle said more baseball and soccer facilities would have to be provided for 1970.

He said these facilities were utilized to capacity in 1969 and it would be essential to increase them in 1970.

Two diamonds were taken out of service this past summer because they encroached on other diamonds or facilities. And another will be lost if the arena goes onto the site proposed in the downtown area.

Three St. Albert teams competed in fastball leagues this past summer and there was also a senior baseball team, four bantam baseball teams and 18 Little Canadian baseball teams in action.

Mr. Beedle said at least one new soccer field would be required. There was a senior soccer team and also 18 teams in the Hercules Sports Association's minor program in action last summer.

Mr. Beedle said an addition would have to be considered for the rink shack on the Grosvenor site for next season as there is no longer standing room on an average busy day.

Salesman: "This model has a top speed of 130 miles an hour, and she'll stop on a dime."

Prospect: "What happens then?"

Salesman: "A little putty knife comes out and scraps you off the windshield."

Gary Larsen successfully defends title

Gary Larsen of St. Albert today feels like a legitimate title holder.

Larsen, 14, won the 95-pound Alberta junior amateur boxing crown a couple of weeks back without throwing a punch. His opponent failed to show.

Saturday night, however, he staked a legitimate claim to the title.

Larsen used fists and brains to hammer out a split decision over Keith Sorensen of Rocky Mountain House on Sorensen's home ground.

The scorecards read 60-56 and 59-57 in Larsen's favor and 60-60 plus against him.

CORRECTION

Mrs. Lorne Akins became a life member of the St. Albert United Church Women last week, a tribute to her many years of dedicated service. The Gazette had incorrectly reported that Mrs Fred Akins, Mrs. Lorne Akins' daughter-in-law, had been accorded the honor.
